By L. C. DEMAREE.

One of Daytona's crowning glories is her incomparable beach. No one who has ever set foot upon its smooth, packed-sands; no one who ever pedaled a bicycle over its expanse; no one who ever drove a prancing pair of horses and listened to the popping of their steel shoes upon its asphaltum-like face; no one who ever steered a high-power automobile down the broad stretch of wave-washed and surf-packed sand but realized that it is a world beater, a world-wonder. Go stand upon this wide speedway and see the happy souls flit by in joyous mood, and answer whether this is not one of the seven modern wonders.

The Placid, Pellucid Halifax River.

Where think you is water with more picturesque surroundings? Nearly a mile wide, fringed with tropical vegetation, artistic cottages with roomy verandas looking out upon her bosom gamey food fishes in countless numbers beckoning, as it were, to those with rod and reel; her bosom flecked with duck and coot and snowy-winged sea birds, which sit along as if for the sport of bobbing upon the waves; watch that lubberly old white headed pelican pouch a fat mullet, and that fish hawk struggling upward with his floundering load he snatched from the water.

See the beautiful launches, spick and span, with hampers and lockers bulging with refreshments, both solid and liquid, ready for a cruise upon the beautiful surface. Take out your field glass and sweep the river from Ormond bridge to Ponce Park light house, then say whether the Halifax isn't a thing of beauty and a joy forever, and one of the modern wonders.

The Enchantingly Picturesque Ridgewood.

Ridgewood avenue is upon the crest of a broad ridge, straight as the crow flies and the wide spreading branches of the heavy-trunked live oaks extend their giant arms across the magnificent vista, forming an arch, and from these extended arms great festoons of Spanish moss sway as the trade winds from the tropic seas fan them. Looking straight ahead down this white shell street one has the impression of a fairy path with green draperies, but as you move along and cast an eye first to the right and then to the left you see distinguished cottage homes in the most delightful settings.

See the glistening leaf of the grand magnolia which nature has varnished as no artist's brush ever could; and the cabbage palms with their burdens of showy fruit and swaying palms; see the lovely holly with its exquisite berry; see the climbing vines which riot in the trees; see the cryptogamous forms which gain a foothold on the great oaks and stately palms, and surely you will join in the chorus and say that this is a world wonder for beauty.

Surpassing Beauty of Our Cottage Homes.

No one of Daytona's attractions, perhaps, commands more nearly universal attention and praise than does the artistic cottages. The owners of these charming villas hail from every corner of the country and they bring their own architectural plans and build upon them, and, as the architecture of one section of the country differs from the architecture of another so do our homes differ in outward appearance and structural beauty from one another. There are no monotonous rows of strikingly similar buildings but the eye, as it sweeps by, is treated to a kaleidoscopic change which keeps the mind wondering, "What next?"

It is not only the exterior of many of these homes which rivets attention; within they are models of convenience, and the finishing and furnishing give evidence of the elegance and cultivation of those who worked it all out. Indeed, it is the interior arrangement and artistic furnishing and shading, more than the exterior appearance that gives a surpassing charm to Daytona homes. This feature justly merits prominence as another wonder.

Streets and Pavements the Most and Best.

Why the Architect of the Universe chose to give Daytona the most admirable, the most picturesque natural setting of all the cities of the South is not revealed, but that such is a fact must be apparent to the most superficial observer. With such lavish wealth of natural beauty it became an easy thing for the hand of man to give the finishing touches which have wrought out the colors and outlines of the big picture.

Man did all this in the laying out of the streets with their wide margins of parkage. The entire city becomes a great park, with driveways intersecting, miles upon miles of driveways so good as to attract motorists from all over the continent.

And as for the pavements, pavements that look and act like granite—where else between the eastern and western seas are so many miles in proportion to inhabitants? The pavement question stands with the street as one of the chief drawing cards. Till some usurper of place reports more and better, Daytona throws down the gauntlet to the world.

Squirrels, Flowers, Birds and Fruit.

Whatever one's shortcomings and however indifferent or even callous one may be to many things, the mere mention of "flowers and squirrels, birds and fruits" will send a thrill that is reflected in distended pupils and pricked ears.

For every visitor with a spare goober there is a bunny ready to come and accept your gift. He will sit bolt upright and knaw into the meat, casting furtive, saucy glances at you meanwhile.

Flowers. Usually fresh and blooming the year 'round, you are reminded of Goldsmith's couplet where

Smiling spring its earliest visit paid
And summer's lingering blossoms are delayed.

In one yard roses of varigated hues predominate; another household has a penchant for the poinsettia and the Bremen's eye aflame; another is hidden in a jungle of tall cane. Variety is the spice of life and here is where you find it.

The birds fill in, and with their joyous notes help to give fullness and symmetry to the picture.

As for fruits, choice citrus fruits, Daytona yields the palm to none for quality and quantity per acre. There are scores of citrus groves in proximity to the city, branches bending to the earth with their burdens of luscious golden globes, which for beauty, proficiency and all desirable qualities would truly astonish you.

The Fastest Autos and The Finest Out.

The seventh world wonder, do you ask? Come, whether from Missouri or from Maine, from Kalamazoo or Timbucto, and you will be "shown." Here is where the world's record for speed is broken with every recurring season. Autos, the biggest, the fastest, and the finest are on daily parade and the big show is as free as the pure artesian water from the thousands of flowing wells. It is a continuous show with a constantly shifting scene.

Everything goes, from a 2-horse power up to a 200-horse power, and all degrees of speed from a canter to a two-mile-a-minute clip. You will probably catch the spirit, when you do the roads and the beach are yours. The Florida sunshine is free, the balmy ocean breezes are free, the birds and squirrels and flowers are free, the sparkling fountain water is free and you will have to go down into your wallet only for coin for auto, and bed and board.

This is no fanciful picture; it's all here. It is drawing other thousands and holding them enthralled, it will charm and hold you. Come and see.

A Chinese Trick.

The Chinese are past masters in the art of trickery, and some of their tricks are very ingenious. One is a method by which they can make a postage stamp do service almost indefinitely. The sender of the letter passes over the stamp some paste which in appearance is not unlike the gum at the back of a stamp. When the stamp is obliterated it takes the impression, but it is not even "skin deep." The receiver of the letter must be a confederate, and he passes a damp sponge over the stamp. This removes the paste and with it the postal mark, so until the stamp is worn out it can be used over and over again.

Remembrances.

"Did any of your ancestors do things to cause posterity to remember them?" asked the haughty woman.

"I reckon they did," replied Farmer Corntossel. "My grandfather got mortgages on this place that ain't paid off yet."—Washington Star.

By L. C. DEMAREE.

One of Daytona's crowning glories is her incomparable beach. No one who has ever set foot upon its smooth, packed-sands; no one who ever pedaled a bicycle over its expanse; no one who ever drove a prancing pair of horses and listened to the popping of their steel shoes upon its asphaltum-like face; no one who ever steered a high-power automobile down the broad stretch of wave-washed and surf-packed sand but realized that it is a world beater, a world-wonder. Go stand upon this wide speedway and see the happy souls flit by in joyous mood, and answer whether this is not one of the seven modern wonders.

The Placid, Pellucid Halifax River.

Where think you is water with more picturesque surroundings? Nearly a mile wide, fringed with tropical vegetation, artistic cottages with roomy verandas looking out upon her bosom gamey food fishes in countless numbers beckoning, as it were, to those with rod and reel; her bosom flecked with duck and coot and snowy-winged sea birds, which sit about as if for the sport of bobbing upon the waves; watch that lubberly old white headed pelican pouch a fat mullet, and that fish hawk struggling upward with his floundering load he snatched from the water.

See the beautiful launches, spick and span, with hampers and lockers bulging with refreshments, both solid and liquid, ready for a cruise upon the beautiful surface. Take out your field glass and sweep the river from Ormond bridge to Ponce Park light house, then say whether the Halifax isn't a thing of beauty and a joy forever, and one of the modern wonders.

The Enchantingly Picturesque Ridgewood.

Ridgewood avenue is upon the crest of a broad ridge, straight as the crow flies and the wide spreading branches of the heavy-trunked live oaks extend their giant arms across the magnificent vista, forming an arch, and from these extended arms great festoons of Spanish moss sway as the trade winds from the tropic seas fan them. Looking straight ahead down this white shell street one has the impression of a fairy path with ashen draperies, but as you move along and cast an eye first to the right and then to the left you see distinguished cottage homes in the most delightful settings.

See the glistening leaf of the grand magnolia which nature has varnished as no artist's brush ever could; and the cabbage palms with their burdens of showy fruit and swaying palms; see the lovely holly with its exquisite berry; see the climbing vines run riot in the trees; see the cryptogamous forms which gain a foothold on the great oaks and stately palms, and surely you will join in the chorus and say that this is a world wonder for beauty.

Surpassing Beauty of Our Cottage Homes.

No one of Daytona's attractions, perhaps, commands more nearly universal attention and praise than does the artistic cottages. The owners of these charming villas hail from every corner of the country and they bring their own architectural plans and build upon them, and, as the architecture of one section of the country differs from the architecture of another so do our homes differ in outward appearance and structural beauty from one another. There are no monotonous rows of strikingly similar buildings but the eye, as it sweeps by, is treated to a kaleidoscopic change which keeps the mind wondering, "What next?"

It is not only the exterior of many of these homes which rivets attention; within they are models of convenience, and the finishing and furnishing give evidence of the elegance and cultivation of those who worked it all out. Indeed, it is the interior arrangement and artistic furnishing and shading, more than the exterior appearance that gives a surpassing charm to Daytona homes. This feature justly merits prominence as another wonder.

Streets and Pavements the Most and Best.

Why the Architect of the Universe chose to give Daytona the most admirable, the most picturesque natural setting of all the cities of the South is not revealed, but that such is a fact must be apparent to the most superficial observer. With such lavish wealth of natural beauty it became an easy thing for the hand of man to give the finishing touches which have wrought out the colors and outlines of the big picture.

And as for the pavements, pavements that look and act like granite—where else between the eastern and western seas are so many miles in proportion to inhabitants? The pavement question stands with the street as one of the chief drawing cards. Till some unheard of place reports more and better, Daytona throws down the gauntlet to the world.

Squirrels, Flowers, Birds and Fruit.

Whatever one's shortcomings and however indifferent or even callous one may be to many things, the mere mention of "flowers and squirrels, birds and fruits" will send a thrill that is reflected in distended pupils and pricked ears.

SEABREEZE, Dec. 15.—A number of Seabreeze and Daytona Beach young ladies met with Miss Helen [illegible] on Monday afternoon for the purpose of organizing a young [illegible] auxiliary to the Library association. Their plans are not entirely perfected, but they propose to [illegible] some kind of entertainment in the near future.

The Library association wish to return thanks to Miss Burgman, the donor of 24 books, which were presented to the library within the past week.

Jas. L. McGee and wife, regular winter residents, are located in one of H. L. Kocherspergers beach cottages for the season. Mr. McGee brought a new machine with him, which he drove down from St. Augustine.

The little church around the corner is to have a settled pastor, if things go as they look. Rev. E. J. Rauston of Swanton, Vt., will arrive here sometime within the next two weeks, and it is very likely arrangements will be made to retain his services for the season. He comes from a region where the mercury registered 18 below zero when the letter of acceptance was written.

The library committee are very urgent in asking all those who have books belonging to the library to return them at once, as an inventory of all volumes is to be made, and the librarian wishes to begin the wor as soon as possible.

The Seabreeze Sewing circle met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. J. Bianchi on Halifax avenue. A large attendance was out and a good deal of Christmas talk was indulged. On Thursday the 22d, the ladies of the circle will hold a sale of pies, cakes, candies and homemade bread at the reading room.

J. B. Abercrombie returned last Thursday from Lafayette, Ga., and will spend the winter in Seabreeze.

Miss Ida Sattler of New York city will arrive shortly after the holidays to visit Mrs. John Bianchi on Halifax avenue.

Mrs. Lila McCullough and friend, Miss Lulu Brooke, arrived Sunday night from Marietta, aG., and joined Miss Russell. Mrs. McCullough also brought her two young grandchildren with her.

[illegible] with great [illegible] since the tragic [illegible] of her little son, Claud, and her family are uneasy over her condition.

B. F. Wells' health improves but slowly and he is very subject to weather condition. He has been out only twice since his return hmoe.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Easton arrived from Ilion, N. Y., last week and joined Mrs. S. Augusta Armstrong at her cottage on Valley street. They have spent a number of winters at Lake Helen but this is their first season on the East coast, and they are much pleased. A reporter who called on the ladies was attracted to the place by seeing a bird feeding from an open box in one of the front windows. It proved to be a turtle dove of the ringed neck variety, and Mrs. Armstrong tells the following interesting story concerning her winged friend: Thirty-one years ago last April it came to her home in Buffalo, N. Y., and it has been her pet, and she has been its caretaker since that time. The usual age of a dove, so she informed the listener, is from eight to seventeen years, and according to those statistics the bird has accomplished a phenominal age. Two years ago while Mrs. Armstrong was in California, the bird lost its tail feathers, which have not grown out again. Its feet show age, some of the toes turned under, and they have attained a dark dull red color instead of the bright red usually seen. Mrs. Armstrong further informed the reporter that the bird no longer attempts to fly, but is content to patter around and around the open box in which it is kept, much like a very old man or woman will potter around a room.

Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Talley and baby, who have been at Daytona Beach, are now occupying the north half of the Grigg cottage on Valley street.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Holmes are expected from Lansing, Mich., this week. Their new home, which has reached the inside finishing stag will not be quite ready for their occupancy when they get here, in which case they will spend several weeks with Mr. Holmes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Holmes.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennett of Illinois are occupying one of Mrs. Allen's cottages on the river front.

R. E. Olds and family, his brother Every Olds and sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Sheats, are daily expected. They intended to come by rail as far as Charleston, and board Mr. Olds' boat and make the rest of the trip by water. They [illegible] that they have met with rough weather and are tied up at some point.

Miss Lehman, who arrived last week from the north, has taken rooms at the Elmira cottage for the winter.

Mrs. J. A. Coburn and daughter, Leota, will meet Mr. Coburn in Waycross, Ga., and spend the Christmas holidays with him.

C. A. Kenny leased the Wells cottage on Pinewood avenue Tuesday to F. M. Groat and family of Wisconsin, who will occupy it for the season.

Rev. C. C. Gillett and wife on Monday evening were the surprised recipients of a grocery shower from the Baptist mission and church at their home on North Halifax avenue. It was an expression of appreciation of Mr. Gillett's generous services in helping to build up the little mission at Seabreeze. Cottage prayer meeting was being held at their home, and it was also the first anniversary of the mission at Seabreeze. Some twenty-five friends were present, many of them from Daytona, and after the close of the prayer meeting a pleasant social hour was spent.

FAMOUS NOVELISTS.

What Some of Them Did Before They Took to Writing.

Among those novelists who studied law we have Fielding, Scott, Charles Reade, Wilkie Collins, Blackmore, Washington Irving, George Meredith, Robert Grant, Henry James, Anthony Hope, Rider Haggard and Owen Wister. Journalism, which Mr. Kipling once defined as the one legitimate branch of the profession, is represented by Dickens, David Christie Murray, William Black, J. M. Barrie, Marion Crawford, George W. Cable, Stephen Crane, George Barr McCutcheon, Frank Norris, Richard Harding Davis and David Graham Phillips. The navy and merchant marine have given us Smollet, Captain Marryat, Fenimore Cooper, Clark Russell, Joseph Conrad and Morgan Robertson. Artists and architects include Thackeray, Du Maurier, Hopkinson Smith, Robert Chambers, Thomas Hardy and William J. Locke. Medicine and theology are not so well represented. Under the former head we recall for the moment only Smollett (naval surgeon), Holmes, S. Weir Mitchell and Sir Arthur Conan Doyle; under the latter, Sterne, Charles Kingsley, Henry van Dyke, Edward Everett Hale, Ian Maclaren, Ralph Connor and Thomas Dixon. College professors who have either given up their chairs to become novelists or have found time for occasional novels in the midst of their other duties are Sir Walter Besant, Robert Herrick and Brander Matthews.—Bookman.

The Natives Still Sacrifice [illegible] to Their Favorite Gods.

It may not be as apparent, but as a matter of fact idolatry has a strong hold on the natives of the Mexican hot lands as when Cortes and his soldiers marched through them on their way to Honduras 400 years ago.

In the state of Oaxaca, in which is Tehuantepec, there is near every village some secluded spot—be it a cave, the top of a mountain or a forest encircled pool—whither the people clandestinely repair in order to make sacrifices to their gods. The favorite sacrifice is a goat, a turkey or other fowl, the head of which is cut off and buried, while the soil and the other offerings, consisting of dishes of food and a gourd filled with an intoxicating drink, are sprinkled with the blood. The place where these sacrifices are made determines their effect. If a Tehuana bears a grudge against a neighbor he will bury the head of a chicken or the bones of a dog at dead of night outside of his victim's house, though, on the other hand, if the ceremony is performed within it can bring nothing but good luck.

The natives of the isthmus firmly believe that every child at birth becomes intimately connected with some beast of the jungle, and the grownup man will never hurt that particular kind of animal. If the animal dies, the child dies too. The question is to determine just what kind of an animal it is, and in order to reassure himself the father sprinkles ashes or dust on the ground outside the house at the child's birth and watches for a spoor.—Everybody's Magazine.

The town is well laid out and has many pretty homes. A large number of tourists and winter residents make Port Orange winter headquarters, one of the several attractions being the excellent fishing.

A short distance west of Port Orange are the remains of the old Dunlawton sugar mill, a place that is visited every year by hundreds of tourists. One time all the country west of Port Orange, surrounding the old mill, was a vast indigo and sugar cane plantation. The mill was operated extensively in those early days but has been in disuse for forty or fifty years.

A very interesting drive from Daytona is by ocean beach to the approach of the Port Orange bridge, across the bridge and then passing through the principal street of Port Orange to the ruins of the celebrated old sugar mill, returning to Daytona by the road on the mainland.

SCHEME INAUGURATED BY PAPER THIS SEASON IS PROVING POPULAR AMONG THE MERCHANTS AND READERS.

Has your name appeared in the columns of the Daily News for merchandise or Crystal theatre coupons? If it has not it will probably be there tomorrow or the next day or the day after or some time soon. Watch for it. Hunt for it. Find it and then bring the advertisement or reader containing it to the Daily News office and get your coupon.

Every one of these coupons cost the Daily News their face value in cash and they are worth just that much to you, so don't overlook the one that contains your name. The names are all selected by chance from the columns of the paper issued the day before and if your name was in the paper yesterday it may be in one of the coupons today.

This feature of the Daily News is proving popular among the merchants of the city and the readers of the paper this season as is proven by the fact that the persons named in the coupons are always anxious to get their coupons the next day after the paper is issued in the afternoon.

POSTOFFICE DEPARTMENT WARNS USERS OF STAMPS.

MANY CHRISTMAS PACKAGES HAVE ALREADY BEEN SENT TO THE DEAD LETTER OFFICE IN WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15—Already many Christmas packages and letters designed to bring good cheer into the homes of relatives and friends of the soldiers in foreign lands are pouring into the dead letter division and will never reach those to whom addressed. A spirit of charity and good will toward humanity is responsible for this unhappy fact. The laws of various European nations and their colonies provide that when Red Cross or other charitable stamps or seals are used on mail matter originating in the United States, the stickers must be affixed to the reverse side of the letter or parcel. If the seals are placed on the same side as the address and the postage stamps, the mail matter will not be forwarded abroad, but will be returned to the sender, if known, and if not, will be sent to the dead letter division.

Countries to which this ruling applies include Great Britain and all her colonies, Germany, Austria and southern Rhodesia.

On mail addressed to Portugal, Uruguay and Guatemala, the charity stamps must not be used at all.

No such law, of course, applies to domestic mails but postal officials urge that it is desirable to place the Christmas seals on the backs of all parcels or letters, to prevent confusion and delay.

Those who follow the above directions need have no fear that the use of Red Cross seals will cause any trouble in the transmission and delivery of their holiday mails. If the reverse sides of letters and parcels are plastered with the seals, Uncle Sam's postal officials will make no objections and the "white plague" will have been given a hard blow.

*At the Crystal theater is a good place to spend an evening and we will give Mrs. F. T. Peck two tickets for tomorrow night if she will bring this little reader to the Daily News office.

COLORED CITIZENS STRIVING FOR STREET IMPROVEMENT

A subscription list is being circulated by a road improvement committee of colored men to secure funds for the improvement of Second street, between Waycross and Midway. This road lies west of and paralleling the railroad and is the main thoroughfare connecting the colored settlements of Waycross and Midway. The betterment of this road would be a great convenience to the citizens of those sections and they are making a strong effort to improve it. COMMISSION APPOINTED BY PRESIDENT TAFT LAST YEAR NOW HOLDING A SESSION IN NEW YORK CITY.

NEW YORK, Dec. 15—The stocks and bonds commission, appointed by President Taft under the authority of the railway act of the last session of congress, to investigate and report on the best method for Federal regulation of the issue of stocks and bonds of interstate carriers, will re-open its sessions in this city today, with President Arthur T. Hadley, of Yale, in the chair.

The commission seeks a means to circumvent the opposition evident at Washington when a measure was introduced at the last congress to regulate the issue of railway securities. At that time objection was raised to the provision that no new road should be allowed to sell its bonds below par and this, together with the general belief that the measure did not contain all the features that such a bill should embody, served to bring its defeat.

At the present hearing, members of the Interstate Commerce Commission will give their views on the federal control of railway securities and the testimony of the various state railway commissions will be taken and a voluminous correspondence will be carried on with a view to collecting information to be used as a basis of the new commissioner's report.

The effort of President Taft to obtain a bill regulating the issue of securities by the interstate carriers is the outcome of the vast jobbing deals that have been perpetrated by unscrupulous railway manipulators, who have, in this way, lined their own pockets at the expense of the investor.

SHOULD NOTIFY PUBLIC OF CLOSING OF BRIDGE.

Marcus H. Rogers, of Bay street, drove to Ormond Tuesday accompanied by some visiting friends, intending to cross the river at that place and return by the ocean beach, but found the bridge closed for repairs and was obliged to turn back.

It would be a convenience to the public to have a notice of the closing of the Ormond or Port Orange bridges appear in the Daily News and this notice will be gladly used as a matter of news if the office is properly advised of the date.

With its ancient ruins dating back to a time when the history of man [illegible] interlaced with wires of the modern telegraph and telephone, its miles of shell streets as hard and smooth as a floor and over-arched by hoary forest giants that grew in stately grandeur during the lapse of bygone centuries, New Smyrna is truly a place of romance and rest.

All nature here is very inviting to the tourist and pleasure-seeker. Here too is to be found the best fishing and hunting in the state of Florida.

The people are thrifty, the business men enterprising, and all unite in extending the welcome hand of hospitality to strangers. There are five church edifices for white people and an equal number for the colored population; the town has an excellent high school, a splendid public library, and up-to-date business houses.

There are any number of pretty homes for the permanent population, which numbers close to 2,000, and some very fine winter residences. There are good hotels and boarding houses where you can find accommodations to meet your requirements.

Adjoining New Smyrna is as fine a section of [illegible] land as can be found anywhere. This land has been divided into small farms which can be bought at reasonable prices. Some of the finest [illegible] grown in the state is raised [illegible]. All other vegetables [illegible] abundance, and here, too, is the home of the famous Indian River [illegible]

NEW SMYRNA FLORIDA

With its ancient ruins dating back to a time when the history of man runneth not, interlaced with wires of the modern telegraph and telephone, its miles of shell streets as hard and smooth as a floor and overarched by hoary forest giants that grew in stately grandeur during the lapse of bygone centuries, New Smyrna is truly a place of romance and rest.

All nature here is very inviting to the tourist and pleasure-seeker. Here too is to be found the best fishing and hunting in the state of Florida.

The people are thrifty, the business men enterprising, and all unite in extending the welcome hand of hospitality to strangers. There are five church edifices for white people and an equal number for the colored population; the town has an excellent high school. a splendid public library, aad up-to-date business houses.

There are any number of pretty homes for the permanent population, which numbers close to 2,000. and some very fine winter residences. There are good hotels and boarding houses where you can find accommodations to meet your requirements.

Adjoining New Smyrna is as fine a section of vegetable land as can be found anywhere. This land has been divided into small farms which can be bought at reasonable prices. Some of the finest celery grown in the state is raised on that land. All other vegetables grow in abundance, and here, too, is the home of the famous Indian River oranges.

Port Orange.

Wm. E. Johnson is preparing to build on the site of his old home.

Allen Tedder, second son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Tedder, died quite suddenly at his home in Titusville last Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Tedder went there Thursday afternoon.

Chas. E. Smith has been moved from his home to the Hardeman House so as to have proper care. We are glad to report that he is improving.

Mr. Tribble, of the Illinois House, is also quite ill. We all hope he may soon improve.

Prevatt & Tedder succeeded in getting a good flow of water after drilling 165 feet. It is the deepest well in Port Orange.

The party Thursday night at Ridgewood Hall was, as usual, a very pleasant one.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Fred Cummings and two children and Mrs. Cumming's sister, Miss Stella Baker, arrived last week. Mr. Cummings will soon have the hotel open.

Mr. Winn and daughter have rented Mr. Cumming's cottage for the season.

Mildred Pattillo came over from Orleans Saturday and returned Monday.

Mr. Shattuck, the organizer of the Woodmen of the World, was in Port Orange last Sunday.

Miss Fowler has returned from Massachusetts and New Hampshire, where she spent the summer.

YOUNG MAN IS HIT BY TRAIN; BODY IS BADLY MANGLED.

GAINESVILLE, Fla., Dec. 15—Mangled almost beyond recognition the body of John Green, a young white man who lived with his parents at Hines, was found on the Newberry and Perry branch of the Atlantic Coast Line railroad.

No blame attaches to the railroad or employes for the fatal accident, as it is said the young man is responsible for his own death. According to the story told he was on his way home from Perry and failed to get off at the station at Hines, which was not discovered by the crew until the train had passed eastward several miles. At his request the train was stopped, and the young man was last seen alive walking towards his home on the track.

At 1 o'clock in the afternoon the westbound train struck his body while turning a sharp curve. The engineer did everything within his power to bring the train to a stop, which which proved to no avail. Green was first detected only a short distance ahead of the engine, lying on the track with a suitcase by his side. The body was dragged for a distance of two hundred feet and terribly mangled. The suitcase was found to contain nine quarts of whiskey. The whiskey and blood of the unfortunate man were scattered along the track for a considerable distance.

BLIZZARD IN NEW YORK; SEVERAL FEET OF SNOW.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Dec. 15—A terrific blizzard is sweeping over the middle states today. Traffic is tied up in many places. The snow is now several feet deep.

A Social Club dance will be given tonight by a number of young men of the city at the Palmetto Club house on Orange avenue. Wood's Orchestra will furnish the music.

Ormond Notes

ORMOND, Dec. 14—Chas. Whitesley and wife, of Dayton, Ohio, are visiting Mrs. Jos. E. Francis, who is a sister of Mr. Whitesley.

Mr. Foster and wife are spending the winter in Ormond. They have taken the Howe cottage on Pine street.

The Stimpson family, consisting of Mrs. Isabella Stimpson, Mrs. Rachel Neal, Wm. Jenks, H. Neal and Miss Elizabeth Neal arrived Monday from Lynn, Mass., and are comfortably located for the winter at Cameron Lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. John Smith, of North Dakota, have taken one of the Burr cottages for the winter. Mrs. Smith is a sister of Mrs. John Clements, of Winnepeg.

Mrs Dickerson and Miss Barlow, of North Granby, Conn., are in the Hall cottage for the winter.

We extend the glad hand to our old friend, C. Griffin, of Granby Conn., who comes to Ormond every winter. Mr. Griffin arrived this week. No man ever goes fishing as early in the morning or has the bull-dog stick-to-itiveness like Mr. Griffin, and he certainly does land some fine specimens of the speckled beauties.

Messrs Wetherbee, Barker, Colby and Harris went down to Daytona Tuesday in the launch Alma, and if anyone had a picnic they certainly did. After a mishap which disabled the control of the engine they got started for home. In going under the Ormond bridge draw the boat stopped and they were at the mercy of the high southerner which blew all day. The wind caused the boat to blow into the bridge and came near a smash-up. The damage was slight, however.

What came near being a serious fire at two o'clock Monday morning was prevented by Mrs. John Milligan, who saw the flames and gave the alarm. A lot of rubbish was smouldering on the bank of the river south of the postoffice. The bridge gang hauled up some timber and left it lying across the embers, causing the fire to break out. If a strong wind had been blowing from the south Francis' store would have been destroyed undoubtedly. A few buckets of water, however, subdued the flames.

A meeting of the Ormond Yacht club was held at the club house, John Riley in the chair. Steps were taken to see about dredging or building a new dock, and a committee was appointed to ascertain the advisability and probable cost and report at a meeting to be called by the committee.

J. Voght and his wife and daughter, Dorothy, arrived this week and have rented the Emmons cottage on Palmetto street.

Leaping Treason.

King William III. of England was passionately fond of the chase and made it a point never to be outdone in any leap, however perilous. A Mr. Cherry, who was devoted to the exiled family, took advantage of this to plan the most pardonable design which was ever formed against a king's life. He regularly joined the royal hounds, put himself foremost and took the most desperate leaps in the hope that William might break his neck in following him. One day, however, he accomplished one so imminently dangerous that the king when he came to the spot shook his head and drew back. It is said that Mr. Cherry at length broke his own neck and thereby relieved the king from further hazard.

Surveying Land.

The art of land surveying owes its origin to the fact that the Egyptians were unable to keep permanent divisions on land which was overflowed every year by the Nile. Under such circumstances it became necessary to have some means of reidentifying the various pieces of land. The instruments and mathematical methods of surveying, with suitable modifications, were used by the Egyptians for land surveying.

His Past and His Present.

"What do you know about his past?" asked Mabel.

"Just enough to make me a little suspicious about his present," said Maud, examining with a magnifying glass the diamond ring the young man had sent her.

south and south-west a distance of from three and one-half to four miles, and extend east and west from the surging seas of the Atlantic Ocean to the Halifax River, the beautiful tide water stream that sets them apart from Daytona with which they have close communion by means of three bridges, as well as a half-hour ferry service.

Seabreeze and Daytona Beach are essentially summer and winter resorts and are making hundreds of new friends every year among those who desire to escape the discomforting extremes of heat and cold, and their hotels and boarding houses are now receiving splendid patronage from the most discriminating class of tourists.

The ocean itself, with its marvelous beach, hard as macadam and smooth as a floor, is the greatest attraction, although earth, air and sky seem to have entered into a combination to enhance its every charm. The beach is the famous automobile race course where every world's straight-away record has been made, and all these records it continues to hold without rivalry.

The beach has a width of 300 to 500 feet and can be used from two hours after until two hours before high tide, thus giving an average of seven or eight hours for automobiling some part of each day.

Seabreeze and Daytona Beach each have a permanent population of approximately 1500. Sanitary ordinances are strictly enforced, streets and sidewalks are well kept, and new streets are being opened as fast as the increasing population demands. Besides hotels and boarding houses there is ample cottage accomodation for all winter visitors in both towns.

All the attractiveness of Seabreeze applies to Daytona Beach, the two towns being so similarly situated. The development of Daytona Beach has been fully as phenominal as its sister on the north, and each year there is a substantial growth. The great sand dunes have been leveled and handsome homes have been built for both winter and all-year-round occupancy.

Surveying Land.

The art of land surveying owes its origin to the fact that the Egyptians were unable to keep permanent monuments on land which was overflowed every year by the Nile. Under such circumstances it became necessary to have some means of reidentifying the various pieces of land. The instruments and mathematical methods of astronomy, with suitable modifications, were used by the Egyptians for land surveying.

MOROCCO SHORT OF REFORM.

Sultan Foils Grafters in Army by Shrewd Trick.

A Tangier correspondent has given an amusing description of the difficulties which confront the sultan of Morocco in his efforts to reform his army. The Moorish officers, who by all manner of corruption were able to make a profitable living out of their positions, oppose the new system, especially as the payment of their men will be taken out of their hands. It was only by ordering all the troops into Fez for an inspection by himself that the sultan was able to obtain possession of the arms and accouterments of his soldiers, as a very considerable proportion of their rifles, etc., had been stolen by the officers.

Desiring to make as good a show as possible at the parade, the officers brought out the concealed arms and hired a large number of loafers to serve as soldiers, hoping by this means to impress the sultan with their excellent services and to conceal the fact that they had been drawing the pay of far more men than they really had under their command.

The army appeared upon parade in the palace square, the gates were closed and the soldiers ordered to disarm and take off their uniforms, while the dismayed officers saw all the loot carried off into the palace.

QUEER NAMES IN OZARKS.

Rat, Kiddoo Spur and Protem Among Towns' Titles.

In a single Ozark mountain county of Missouri this large collection of the literal label is shown: Rat, Ink Gang, Alley, Timber, Horse, Hollow, Sinkin, Birch Tree, Timber and Low Wassie. More imaginative, perhaps, are Not and Congo. Mountain View represents the humorous department, for it is in a hollow where there is neither view nor mountain.

For shortness of name the region is no less remarkable with such types as Ely, Ali, Lon, Job, Arp, Oss, Coy, Day, Sly, Ran, Igo, Abo and Roe. Sometimes the traveler may have a suspicion that the towns have been named after the fashion that the Indians label their children. There are such examples as Cola, Gnome, Notch and Flag.

Sometimes the labels are poetic and alluring—Shadygrove, Birdsong and Redwing—and again they are as far in the other direction, as Kiddoo Spur, Nigton Stone Quarry, Hanks and Snaith. For those who know Latin, Bois is a good name for a town, though Deposia and Protem may seem radical.

LET MAID USE YOUR AUTO

Or Piano an Afternoon Out and Solve Servant Problem.

In a paper on "The Duties of Mistresses and Servants," read at a recent meeting of the Irish Women's Suffrage association in Dublin, Miss Bellingham Todd contended that domestic service more nearly approached a mild form of slavery than any other occupation.

The conditions under which a servant lived did not compare favorably with the environment of the salesgirl or clerk. One was called "a menial" and the other "a young lady." One never knew when her work was done, while the other had stated hours. Mistresses, said Miss Todd, ignored the revolution which had taken place and treated servants as still being of an ignorant lower class when they should be put on the same footing as business girls.

Miss Todd was of the opinion that servants should be given the use of a piano and could not see what objection there was to a servant having a bicycle or even the automobile placed at her disposal whenever she had an afternoon out.

GOLD DINNER SET FOR CLARK

Montana Copper Magnate Pays $120,000 For 900 Pieces.

A firm of Chicago manufacturing jewelers have shipped to New York what is probably the most elaborate dinner service in America. It was made for former Senator W. A. Clark of Montana and will be used in his $7,000,000 mansion in Fifth avenue, New York. It cost $120,000 and contains 900 pieces. Each piece was especially designed to harmonize with the Clark dining room, and the set includes service for twenty-four persons.

The order was given two years ago, and special workmen and designers were employed. The designs are extremely simple with the exception of an elaborate monogram of the owner. All of the pieces are lined with gold and are very heavy.

TITLES FOR MAYORESSES.

Women Heads of Cities to Be Knighted by King George.

When the usual English coronation honors are conferred the women who have been elected mayors will receive, along with the other mayors, the further distinction of knighthood, unusual now for their sex.

In feudal times knighthood was often conferred on women, and the custom was continued when there were no feudal duties attaching to the title. In Tudor days Mary and Elizabeth were knighted before they became queens.

Admiral Togo is a hero in his own country all right, but not any more so than in England. Germany and other powers declare the English are playing to Admiral Togo and the fetes and royal entertaining are all a political game. Even so, Admiral Togo seems to like it. He is in England at present and has struck up a great fancy for little Jack Dunston, son of hear Admiral Dunston of the British navy. The aged Jap and the little English boy are constant companions, Admiral Togo insisting on taking little Jack with him on his tour of England. Japan is planning to send a big fleet of war vessels to England, and Admiral Togo has been busy planning reception details.

A Venetian Fashion.

Fashions were no less eccentric four centuries ago than they are today. "Before the streets of Venice were paved (in the thirteenth century)," says Mr. William Boulting in "Woman In Italy," "ladies went though the mud and filth on pattens. The custom was retained, and in spite of sumptuary laws the patten became heightened until women of rank stood on false feet half a yard high in the sixteenth century. They were unable to walk without the support of one or two gentlemen or servants."

A curiosity in banquets is mentioned by the same writer. It was a wedding feast at Milan and consisted of fifteen courses, "each being introduced by living specimens of the animals that composed it."

Tale of a Snake.

"Before he went fishin'," said the town story teller, "he swallowed 'bout a pint an' half of snake bite remedy, an' of course you know what that is. Well, after the snake bit him the reptile cut all sorts of capers, kase the remedy went straight to its head. Last thing it tried to do was to swaller its tail, an' it got itself in the form of a hoop, an' I'm a liar of the children didn't roll it around all day!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Her Only Want.

"I have difficulty in satisfying my wife. She has a thousand wants."

"I have difficulty in satisfying mine, and she has only one want."

"What is it?"

"Money."—Baltimore American.

Consistency.

Mother—Aren't you goin' to wash up them tea things, Mariaranne, before you go out? Daughter—No, I ain't. I'm late enough for "mother's 'elp" class as it is.—London Opinion.

Modernity.

"If it's a better hill climber I don't blame 'em. Me for the French car every time."—London Punch.

His Biggest Mistake.

"What was the biggest mistake you ever made?"

"Thinking I was too foxy to make a big mistake."—Cleveland Leader.

Swiss Griddlecakes.

Swiss griddlecakes are really potato croquettes in all except form. Grate four or five large potatoes, press part of the water out of them and mix with two beaten eggs and a heaping tablespoonful of salt. Drop by spoonful on a hot greased griddle.

DROWNED THE MUSIC.

The Audience Was Angry, and Theodore Thomas Was Obstinate.

Theodore Thomas once undertook to raise a subscription fund for a series of concerts in San Francisco, but only $20,000 had been raised, and the enterprise hung fire. Then he announced that Emma Thursby would sing at each concert, and the guarantee fund promptly went up to $50,000.

Thomas had a rule against encores for soloists. They were allowed to appear and bow in recognition of applause, but that was all. The San Franciscans held that as it was Miss Thursby's engagement which was responsible for the raising of the fund they were entitled to encore her if they chose. Thomas, however, insisted stubbornly on his rule.

On the last night a determined effort was made to encore her. She appeared again and again, bowing her thanks, and each time the applause increased instead of diminishing. At last the audience began to shout its demands instead of merely applauding, and Miss Thursby turned to Thomas and said, "What shall I do?"

"Keep on bowing if you have to bow all night," snapped Thomas grimly.

And she went out and bowed again. This time Thomas directed the orchestra to go ahead with the final number. The audience, thoroughly indignant, shouted down the music, but Thomas was inflexible. The orchestra went on playing, utterly unheard, in a pandemonium of shouted protests. And it was probably the only time that a Thomas number fell on deaf ears.—Ladies' Home Journal.

All About It.

To appreciate fully this scrap of dialogue quoted from London Punch one should see the two old characters engaged in it. Apparently they parted satisfied, one that he had imparted some real information, the other that he had received some: "Said one man:

"D'you recollec' old wot's 'is name?"

"'Im with the collar?"

"Aye!"

"Wot abaht 'im?"

"'E 'ad to go down"—jerk of the head—"you know. They give 'im wot you call it—didn't arf git it, I don't think!"

"Reely!"

"'Adn't you 'eard, then?"

"I did 'ear somethink, but no details, not afore now."

DROWNED THE MUSIC.

The Audience Was Angry, and Theodore Thomas Was Obstinate.

Theodore Thomas once undertook to raise a subscription fund for a series of concerts in San Francisco, but only $10,000 had been raised, and the enterprise hung fire. Then he announced that Emma Thursby would sing at each concert, and the guarantee fund promptly went up to $50,000.

Thomas had a rule against encores for soloists. They were allowed to appear and bow in recognition of applause, but that was all. The San Franciscans held that as it was Miss Thursby's engagement which was responsible for the raising of the fund they were entitled to encore her if they chose. Thomas, however, insisted stubbornly on his rule.

On the last night a determined effort was made to encore her. She appeared again and again, bowing her thanks, and each time the applause increased instead of diminishing. At last the audience began to shout its demands instead of merely applauding, and Miss Thursby turned to Thomas and said, "What shall I do?"

"Keep on bowing if you have to bow all night," snapped Thomas grimly.

And she went out and bowed again. This time Thomas directed the orchestra to go ahead with the final number. The audience, thoroughly indignant, shouted down the music, but Thomas was inflexible. The orchestra went on playing, utterly unheard, in a pandemonium of shouted protests. And it was probably the only time that a Thomas number fell on deaf ears.—Ladies' Home Journal.

All About It.

To appreciate fully this scrap of dialogue quoted from London Punch one should see the two odd characters engaged in it. Apparently they parted satisfied, one that he had imparted some real information, the other that he had received some. Said one man:

"D'you recollec' old wot's 'is name?"

"Aye!"

"Wot abaht 'im?"

"'E 'ad to go down"—jerk of the head—"you know. They give 'im wot you call it—didn't arf git it, I don't think!"

"Reely!"

"'Adn't you 'eard, then?"

OPENINGS IN POLITICS, SAYS TEDDY.

ADVICE TO HARVARD MEN BY THE FORMER PRESIDENT.

ROOSEVELT SAYS, HOWEVER, THEY SHOULD NOT BE ASSOCIATED WITH ANY BUT ARDENT POLITICAL REFORMERS.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 21—"Get into politics," was the advice given the Harvard students today by Col. Theodore Roosevelt. He urged the participation of college men in practical politics and received an ovation from the students.

"I wouldn't be associated in politics with any but the ardent reformers," said the colonel. "Always be sure you understand both sides when you criticize. Be good men, but not offensively conscious of it."

BARGAIN DAYS PROFITABLE; THIS IS BELIEF OF LYMAN.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF SPECIAL BARGAINS IN DAILY NEWS LAST WEEK BROUGHT IN FLOOD OF CASH BUYERS.

Do bargain days pay?

Does it pay to take a little time to figure out some cash bargains and tell the people about them through the Daily News?

Ask I. G. Lyman.

Last week Mr. Lyman figured out a few bargains he could make for cash, set the time when these bargains would be turned loose for Saturday and told the people about them in the Daily News. As a result his cash sales for that day, which came directly through his announcements in the Daily News, amounted to a few cents less than $400. Did it pay? Mr. Lyman believes it did.

As a result of this flood of business Mr. Lyman has decided to make every Saturday a bargain day and he will have special bargains to offer the people of Daytona at the end of every week during the winter season. All announcements of bargains will be made through the Daily News and it will pay to read the paper carefully.

A Peerless touring car has arrived at the F. E. C. Ry. depot for Mrs. J. M. Potter, of Cincinnati, Ohio, who is occupying one of W. B. Chittenden's houses on North Ridgewood avenue. Mrs. Potter's chauffeur is now in Jacksonville looking for the car, having gone there Wednesday morning for that purpose.

S. B. Crook, proprietor of the Central Garage, had a force of men engaged this morning at the F. E. C. Ry. freight depot, unloading a couple of touring cars, one, a six-cylinder Pierce-Arrow for Peter Behm, of South Beach street, and the other, a Havana-Canyon, for E. B. Putnam, whose family are occupying Mrs. C. E. Scott's residence at Daytona Beach. Mr. Putnam is expected to arrive in a few days.
